Credit Union 24 Network Adds 582,000 Members in Q1 '09

*New Additions Recognize Value of Credit Union-owned POS Network
Among Other Benefits*

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. – April 27, 2009 – Credit Union 24, the country's largest credit union-owned ATM and point-of-sale (POS) network, announced today the addition of four credit unions to its network and 12 long-term contract renewals in Q1 2009, representing an aggregate total of more than $4.3 billion in assets with more than 582,000 members. These new and renewing credit unions cited the long- and short-term benefits of credit union-owned POS and nationwide surcharge-free ATM access as vital tools in growing and retaining membership.

"One of the many reasons for joining the Credit Union 24 network is the value and ROI generated for our credit union and our members as a result of being a member-owned POS network," said George Joseph, Manager of Dade County Federal Credit Union in Miami, Fla. "Not only will we recognize increased interchange income and save our members thousands on ATM surcharge fees, we are also part of a select group within the credit union movement that has a direct choice and voice on our POS offering and the value that it brings to our existing and future members."

The four new credit unions that joined the Credit Union 24 network are Avestar Credit Union in Bloomington, Minn.; Dade County Federal Credit Union in Miami, Fla.; O.U.R. Federal Credit Union in Eugene, Ore.; and Toro Employees Federal Credit Union in Minneapolis, Minn. The 12 credit unions that renewed in Q1 2009 signed up to 5-year contracts to continue leveraging the Credit Union 24 network to benefit their respective members, who collectively conduct more than 13 million transactions a year. Relationships with those credit unions extend as far back as 1992, illustrating the long-term commitment between them and Credit Union 24.

"This network expansion illustrates how the Credit Union 24 network offers flexible programs that can enhance credit unions' bottom line, as we're constantly working with credit unions to find solutions for their unique needs and help them attract and retain members," said Jim Park, president and CEO of Credit Union 24. "The ultimate goal is to deliver superior financial products and flexible service to credit union members, and these credit unions have recognized the financial power that comes from joining a member-owned cooperative."

The 12 renewing credit unions include:

- Coca-Cola Family FCU – Atlanta, Ga.
- Florida Central Credit Union – Tampa, Fla.
- Georgia Power Valdosta FCU – Valdosta, Ga.
