Frankfort, Ky.-based Commonwealth Credit Union Joins Nation's Largest Credit Union-Owned Fee-Free ATM and POS Network

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. – February 09, 2012 – Credit Union 24 announced today that Commonwealth Credit Union, based in Frankfort, Ky., has joined the nation's largest credit union-owned fee-free ATM and point-of-sale network. Commonwealth Credit Union now provides its members with access to thousands of fee-free ATMs and hundreds of thousands of point-of-sale terminals at major merchants nationwide, giving members unprecedented access to their funds.

"Creating a stronger credit union for our members is at the core of every decision we make, and by partnering with Credit Union 24, we are now able to deliver more convenience and greater financial access to our members," said Karen Harbin, president of Commonwealth Credit Union. "Our members are now able to access their cash for free at over 115,000 additional ATMs around the country and use their debit cards at more merchants nationwide, giving them greater peace of mind while saving them thousands on ATM surcharge fees. Plus, our credit union is now much more competitive by offering the widespread financial access that is typically a hallmark of much larger, national financial institutions."

In 1951, Commonwealth Credit Union opened its doors with 122 shareholders and $2,700 in assets. Commonwealth Credit Union has since grown into one of Kentucky's largest credit unions with more than 84,000 members from across Kentucky, and around the world, with assets more than $890 million. Today, Commonwealth Credit Union has five full-service branches, all of which provide the latest services. This includes mobile banking, eStatement and bill payment, along with traditional products and services such as Christmas and vacation accounts; mortgage, vehicle and student loans; and a variety of checking and savings accounts tailored to meet their members' unique needs.

"We are proud to partner with a credit union that embraces the foundation of the credit union movement by providing the specific financial needs of its members/owners and helping ensure their financial success," said Jim Park, president and CEO of Credit Union 24. "Now members of Commonwealth Credit Union will have the best of both worlds: local, personalized financial services that meet their needs as well as nationwide, fee-free access to those services via our credit union-owned ATM and point-of-sale network."
