TALLAHASSEE, Fla. – July 09, 2009 – Credit Union 24, the country's largest credit union-owned ATM and point-of-sale (POS) network, announced today that Healthcare's Cooperative Credit Union has joined its network as the 118th participant in Florida, adding to its significant presence in the State of Florida with the addition of the credit union's 11 locations throughout the greater-Jacksonville, North Florida area.

"Healthcare's Cooperative is joining an elite group that provides our credit union and our members with the direct decision-making ability and increased ROI needed in this challenging economic climate," said Maury Pilver, long-time CEO of Healthcare's Cooperative Credit Union. "Credit Union 24's significant national and statewide presence benefits our members immensely, providing increased value and convenience directly to our members."

With offices in Florida and Louisiana, Healthcare's Cooperative Credit Union, headquartered in Jacksonville, has 22,000 members and $110 million in assets. The Cooperative's financial services for healthcare professionals have been endorsed by both the Florida Hospital Association (FHA) and the Florida Medical Association (FMA), and offers membership to healthcare workers across 46 states.

"This partnership extends financial access locally and nationally for healthcare professionals, as well as other members of Credit Union 24 participating credit unions in the greater Jacksonville area, with even more surcharge-free ATMs," said Jim Park, president and CEO of Credit Union 24. "Past endorsement from the FHA and FMA is a powerful recommendation, and having a successful and very discerning credit union join our network is a compliment to the services our participant-owned network provides."
