Credit Union 24 Creates Long-Term Asset for Shareholders with Purchase of Building to Relocate Corporate Headquarters

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. – June 23, 2009 – Credit Union 24, the country’s largest credit union-owned ATM and point-of-sale (POS) network, announced today that it has purchased a building in Tallahassee, Fla., where the company has relocated its corporate headquarters and central operations in close proximity to its previous location. As a participant-owned network, the new headquarters is owned by the 274 shareholding credit unions that are located throughout the country.

“We look forward to welcoming Credit Union 24 shareholders to their network’s new home,” said Jim Park, President and CEO of Credit Union 24. “Credit Union 24’s executive leadership and Board of Directors made the decision to create an asset and long-term investment for the network with the purchase of this building. The timing was excellent to utilize a small portion of the network’s cash reserves to purchase the building at an excellent price, create a valuable asset for the membership and eliminate a significant element of the network’s overhead.”
