Ohio Credit Union League Services Corporation Continues Its Longstanding Relationship With Credit Union 24

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. – May 24, 2010 – Credit Union 24, the country's largest credit union-owned ATM and point-of-sale (POS) network, announced today that it will continue its longstanding relationship with The Ohio Credit Union League (OCUL) Services Corporation, based in Columbus, Ohio. This partnership between the two groups facilitates collaboration and enhanced service offerings for Ohio credit unions.

"Our partnership with Credit Union 24 provides a streamlined, cost-effective financial service to our credit unions in the form of point-of-sale services, greatly complimenting the variety of resources that OCUL's Services Corporation currently offers," said Dave Fearing of the OCUL Services Corporation. "Credit Union 24's robust POS program generates significant reach for credit unions to their members and provides them with generously competitive interchange rates. Our partnership with Credit Union 24 is a win-win-win situation for us, our credit union partners and Credit Union 24, as together we are all supporting the credit union movement, and it's foundation of participant-owned financial services."

The OCUL Services Corporation is OCUL's primary business subsidiary that exists to help Ohio credit unions grow. Founded in 1934, The OCUL serves as a state trade association and represents about 400 credit unions that have more than $20 billion in assets. The OCUL serves as a supportive organization for credit unions with operational and regulatory information, training opportunities, legislative representation, publications and public relations. It also hosts an annual credit union convention and has a vested interest in the Credit Union National Association. OCUL's mission is "to foster the success of credit unions, and the credit union philosophy, in Ohio."

"Renewing this contract demonstrates the continued support that our credit union-owned network receives from Ohio credit unions by providing them with nearly half a million POS locations at major national retailers and local merchants, giving their members the increased financial reach and access they need," said Jim Park, president and CEO of Credit Union 24. "Our partnership with OCUL, and our aligned views of supporting the credit union movement, allows us to compete in an arena where competition is tough by bringing more value to credit unions through financial services and support."
