Penn State Federal now provides its members with access to thousands of fee-free ATMs and hundreds of thousands of point-of-sale terminals at major merchants nationwide, giving members unprecedented access to their funds.

"Our partnership with Credit Union 24 provides our members with new financial resources that will make their lives more convenient and help them save money," said Connie Wheeler, CEO of Penn State Federal. "The thousands of fee-free ATMs, combined with Credit Union 24's extensive point-of-sale network, means that our members will be able to access their cash and use their debit cards at thousands of merchants across the country for free. Overall, our members benefit from greater financial access and our credit union can also better compete with much larger financial institutions."

Since 1959, Penn State Federal has served the Penn State community with unparalleled member service and low-fee financial services. "We are proud to partner with a credit union that embraces the foundation of the credit union movement by providing the specific financial needs of its members/owners and helping ensure their financial success," said Jim Park, president and CEO of Credit Union 24. "Now members of Penn State Federal will have the best of both worlds: local, personalized financial services that meet their needs as well as nationwide, fee-free access to those services via our credit union-owned ATM and point-of-sale network."
